The busway is here

The revolutionary transport link with fast services connecting Dunstable, Houghton Regis, Toddington, Luton and London Luton Airport is here!

Bus services on the Luton Dunstable Busway will begin on Wednesday 25 September, with Arriva, Centrebus and Grant Palmer operating four new routes.

Together, these provide core services between Dunstable and Luton up to every seven minutes at peak times.

Journey time on the traffic-free guideway between the two town centres will be just 15 minutes – now that's fast, frequent and reliable!

Buses will be able to travel at up to 50mph on the guideway, enabling the Busway to offer a premier service. But tickets will not be at premium prices. The operators will charge the same on their Busway services as they do for the equivalent trip using current road routes.

The world's second longest guided busway, and the longest in an urban environment, has been pioneered by Luton Borough and Central Bedfordshire Councils to give people a high-quality real alternative to the frequent and frustrating traffic queues between Houghton Regis, Dunstable and Luton.

It also opens up a wealth of opportunities for speedy and hassle-free journeys to work, university, college or school, shopping, the theatre or just catching up with friends.

Via the new bus-rail Interchange at Luton Station and London Luton Airport there are also quick and easy onward connections available to the capital together with regional, national and international destinations.

The scheme is supported by the Department for Transport and forms part of the two councils' plans to encourage sustainable economic growth, provide better access to jobs and look after the environment across the conurbation by improving the public transport network.

With real-time passenger information, level boarding and CCTV at key stops, it's now even easier to turn up and go by bus!

Smooth operator

The Busway is both flexible and quick, making it the best way to travel.

Of the 6.1 miles of segregated bus-only road, a concrete track has been built along a 4.8-mile section to take the two small guide wheels fitted at the front of standard buses, so vehicles can be guided along smoothly and safely at speeds of up to 50mph.

The buses can switch seamlessly between the track and normal roads, making it far more flexible than rail and more reliable than conventional bus services.

Check the timetable

Check out the full timetables to find out when buses are running. An information leaflet also with detailed maps is now widely available and timetables for routes A, B, C and E are online at www.busway.net. Real-time information displays at bus stops will also help you on your journey.

Concessionary bus passes are valid on all Busway services under the same terms and conditions as all other bus services in Luton and Central Bedfordshire.

Man to fight bid to have luxury home demolished

BY CARL MUNGABI

carl.mungabi@lutonsunday.co.uk

THE owner of a controversial seven bedroom property which is the subject of a planning dispute has said he will appeal against a council order to have it demolished.

Businessman Syed Raza Shah, 45, has been ordered by Central Bedfordshire Council to pull down his Barton-le-Clay home (pictured before and after) after the authority accused him of having an 'unlawful' extension.

But Mr Shah has branded the authority's claims 'incorrect' and said he will appeal the decision.

Mr Shah initially bought the property in 2008 and was given the green light in 2011 to extend it by 45 per cent.

Work on the house began in April 2012 and on August 16 this year the council served him with an enforcement notice after refusing his retrospective planning application.

Mr Shah said he admitted he had 'gone over' his limit but rejected the authority's claims it was by more than 200 per cent and said the renovations he made did not class the house as a new property.

He said: "Why did they let it go on for 15 months? If there's an increase of 200 per cent why was there not a stop order put on? Were they asleep? It's not a small project, it's being going on for months."

The council said it has received formal complaints against the building work, including one from Barton-le-Clay Parish Council.

REVAMP: Mr Shah said during a visit last month a planning officer agreed the renovations did not make his house a completely new building but the council said it had 'made it quite clear' the work being done was too big to be classed as an extension

Mr Shah said he had started a petition for people in support of him which has received 3,500 signatures so far.

He said: "Obviously we're going to appeal. I'm sure there will be an enquiry into the 200 per cent dispute and also the negligence of the council - why has it taken 15 months to come up with an enforcement notice?

"The enforcement notice was served on August 16. Why? If it's such an extreme extension with such extreme repercussions why was action not taken earlier? Why when the building is now complete am I told you need to demolish it?"

Cllr Nigel Young, from Central Bedfordshire Council, said: "We have taken action here, because although Mr Shah did have planning permission from 2011 to extend his house by 45 per cent, what he actually built, is some 200 per cent bigger and therefore unlawful."

"During the build, we made it quite clear to him that the build was far too big to be considered an extension and that as a result he was breaching planning laws. As a council we have a duty to our residents to ensure that all local development is carefully managed and fits in with the local surroundings.

"When people flout the rules, we have to take action, like we have done in this case. It's something that people want us to do."

"We believe our refusal of his retrospective application is justified but will await the Planning Inspector's decision if taken to appeal."

EDL leader's free meal after Selfridges refusal

BY LAUREN ARCHELL

lauren.archell@lutononsunday.co.uk

ENGLISH Defence League boss Tommy Robinson was treated to a slap up meal this week, after a Selfridges shop assistant refused to serve a man he was with.

Mr Robinson, who's real name is Stephen Lennon, made complaints to senior staff on Monday after the worker in the flagship London store allegedly said he wouldn't serve his friend as he was with the EDL leader.

The assistant had originally been suspended following the incident, which Robinson filmed and posted on YouTube, but he has since been reinstated and told that no further action would be taken against him.

In the video footage Mr Robinson is heard saying to the assistant: 'You won't serve my friend because he's friends with me...and I'm in the EDL.'

TOMMY'S FREE MEAL

- Starter - Red Sea prawn cocktail - £11.25
- Main - Gelarm Shorthorn sirloin steak with bearnaise sauce (250g) - £25
- Dessert - Ronnie's chocolate cake (gluten free) - £5.25

Meanwhile the unnamed assistant holds his hands up and tries to ignore the confrontation, but eventually replies: 'You can put me on the camera all you like but I ain't serving you', before walking away.

By way of apology, the luxury department store laid on a three-course meal for Robinson and his friend in its Hix restaurant, champagne and caviar bar, which included £25 portions of steak and chocolate cake.

Posting pictures on his Twitter feed of the meal, Mr Robinson said: 'I can't lie, staff at Selfridges have been brilliant. #fatlads.'

A spokeswoman for Selfridges said: 'We've been in business since 1909 and we serve everybody regardless of who they are and their political views.'

"We investigated the incident involving one of our sales assistants and he fully understands our position and we won't be taking any further action."

Zookeepers splashed out for Elephant Appreciation Weekend, taking place today, providing them with a paddling pool to ensure that they were spick and span.

Assistant curator of elephants, Lee Sambrook, said: "All of our elephants love water, especially 22-month-old Scott, and bath time is one of their favourite times of day."

"Not only do we want to make sure they're looking their best, we wanted to give them a special treat too."

Whipsnade is hosting Elephant Appreciation Weekend to raise vital funds for research projects. Visitors will have the chance to meet the elephants, watch their daily bath and see them stroll around the site.

Probation fight against decision for privatisation of the service

MORE than 50 employees of the probation service in Luton took to the street to show they are against government plans to privatise the 106-year-old service.

It was announced on Thursday that bidding had begun for the probation service contracts worth £450m across England and Wales.

Once ended, payment-by-results contracts will be split between private companies and charities in 21 regions, who will then supervise 225,000 low and medium-risk offenders each year.

Many unions, including the local Napo branch, have condemned the move, saying that it 'will increase risk to us all.'

Ian Lawrence, General Secretary of Napo, added: "If it's not bad enough that this government doesn't care about people's livelihoods, not caring about public safety is a downright disgrace."

"This is not just about public sector workers worried about jobs, this is about professionals being extremely concerned that these proposals will undermine public protection and put communities at risk of harm, increase re-offending and create more victims."

EastEnders star Jake steps out to join charity walkers

MORE than 400 women braved the chilly September weather to walk ten miles around Luton in aid of Keech Hospice's Star Walk last Saturday night.

The generous ladies were spurred on by EastEnders star Jake Wood (Max Branning) who helped to start the event and encourage those taking part.

More than 100 marshals also helped to guide the women along the route, which took in the town centre, Stopsley and ended at Barnfield College on New Bedford Road.

Following the event, the television star took to Twitter to say "Humbled to meet so many volunteers & fundraisers last night @Keechhospices #starwalk #inspiringwomen."

Keech hope to raise a staggering £60,000 from the Star Walk which will ensure that care for adults and children diagnosed with life-limiting or terminal illnesses can continue.

Thief confesses after seeing CCTV picture

BY LAUREN ARCHELL

lauren.archell@lutononsunday.co.uk

A WOMAN admitted stealing from a shop after seeing a CCTV image of herself being circulated on the internet by the police.

Kristy Flatley of The Larches, Luton, pleaded guilty to the theft of cold meat worth £40 from the Co-op store in Whipperley Way, when she appeared at Luton Magistrates' Court this week.

The 34-year-old also admitted stealing £82.70 worth of beauty products from Superdrug in Luton.

The court heard that Flatley had entered the cosmetics shop on Tuesday, August 27 with a pushchair and started to place items into the hood. She was caught at the scene and all of the items were recovered, but during a police interview Flatley admitted her involvement in the theft from the Co-op store weeks before, after recognising herself in a picture on Bedfordshire Police's website.

Defence solicitor Richard Bayliss said that Flatley had been struggling for money at the time and had taken the items with a view to selling them for extra cash.

However, he added that she had since made changes to turn her life around, and had signed up to a number of programmes at local women's charity Stepping Stones.

Magistrates gave Flatley a conditional discharge which will last for 18 months.

In addition, she was ordered to pay £95, which included £40 which will be given to the Co-op store in compensation for the meat.

A spokesman for Bedfordshire Police said: "We have been releasing more and more CCTV images via Facebook, Twitter and the Bedfordshire Police website in recent weeks and the reason is simple – we want to catch more criminals and bring them to justice.

"CCTV has always been a useful tool in which to identify offenders, but now the Crime Service Team at Bedfordshire Police are dedicating more resources to scouring CCTV footage and releasing stills of offenders via social and conventional media in the hope of getting names."

Staff can't handle their 'stuffy' office

BY LAUREN ARCHELL
lauren.archell@lutononsunday.co.uk

COUNCIL employees have complained about the lack of fresh air in their building - after the authority decided to take handles off of some of the windows for 'health and safety reasons.'

Two people, who we have agreed not to name, contacted Luton on Sunday this week to complain about the state of Unity House on Stuart Street, branding it 'a disgrace.'

One said: "It is a horrible environment to work in."

"There is no fresh air, and the office feels stuffy and hot. We have numerous workers suffering with eye infections which I'm sure is down to the lack of fresh air."

"There have also been leaks and ceiling tiles falling down. It just doesn't seem right that we are working there."

A spokesman for Luton Borough Council said: "Unity

HOT: Some employees have branded Unity House a 'disgrace'

House is ventilated by an air cooling system which works better when all the windows are closed.

Owing to their age and condition, we are unable to obtain cost-effective spare parts or replacements for a few of the windows so the handles have been removed for health and safety reasons.

"Three years ago there was a leak in the air conditioning system which resulted in a number of sodden ceiling tiles coming down overnight.

"A leak above a toilet cubicle this month also resulted in several ceiling tiles being dislodged. The damage is being repaired."

Staff are scheduled to move out of Unity House next year as part of the council's long-term plan to utilise resources as effectively as possible to improve services for residents.

Shopper's sticker switch to get Asda discount

A MAN chose to stick discount stickers on full priced items in a supermarket in an effort to reduce his shopping bill.

On Wednesday at Luton Magistrates' Court, Andrew Cassidy, of Victoria Street, Dunstable, pleaded guilty of one charge of theft of items valuing £21.12, belonging to Asda in Court Drive. The court heard that the 44-year-old had entered the store on Tuesday, September 3.

He was seen to walk around the store and remove discount stickers from items and place them onto the full priced items inside his basket.

He then went to a self checkout machine and paid for the items at the discounted price.

The correct price for all of the items was £29, but using the stickers he paid just £8.

Defence solicitor, Bal Khalirai, said that Cassidy was struggling for money and was finding it difficult to provide for his wife and small child.

In addition, he was ordered to pay £100, which included costs and a victim surcharge.

der and was having a 'manic' phase on the day of the theft, and that he hadn't gone to the store with the intention of stealing.

After deliberations, magistrates gave Cassidy a two year conditional discharge.

In addition, he was ordered to pay £100, which included costs and a victim surcharge.

Nursery teacher's sex assault on girl

BY JULIA SUTTON
editor@lsmmedia.co.uk

A MALE nursery teacher has been told a jail sentence is 'inevitable' after he was found guilty of sexually assaulting a three-year-old girl who was in his class.

The 30-year-old teacher intimately touched the girl after she had fallen and hurt herself while playing at the nursery in Luton in January last year.

At Luton Crown Court on Wednesday the teacher from Bedfordshire, who had worked at the school for a number of years, was found guilty by a jury of sexually assaulting a child under the age of 13.

Hospital looks to boost parking

PATIENTS and visitors to a hospital could be given more space to park after it submitted plans to extend one of its facility's capacity.

Luton & Dunstable University Hospital wants to add 137 additional spaces to its Lewsey Road car park by building an extra deck.

Currently the facility holds 224 spaces and this would be increased to 361 should the council approve it during a meeting on Wednesday.

In the past residents in the area have complained about visitors parking outside their properties.

Last year the L&D's managing director, David Carter, said the hospital was conducting a review of its parking provision.

PCC backs sobering effect of booze tags

BY LAUREN ARCHELL
lauren.archell@lutononsunday.co.uk

FITTING electronic 'sobriety bracelets' to the ankles of offenders prone to alcohol-related violence could be a significant step forward in preventing repeat offences, according to Bedfordshire Police and Crime Commissioner Olly Martins.

The device, worn by offenders banned from drinking, gives a reading of the alcohol in the body at fixed intervals. Often tagged to the ankle they record alcohol intake by measuring air and sweat emissions from the skin and issue an alert to a monitoring station when alcohol has been consumed.

They also contain the same type of technology as GPS tags, allowing the location of the wearer to be tracked, meaning the likelihood of further offences being committed is reduced.

A leading campaigner for the wider use of locational GPS tags among offenders released into the community,

Mr Martins said that deployed effectively, and used in conjunction with drug testing and other support services, sobriety bracelets could lead to fewer crimes and victims.

He said: "As budgets get tighter, the use of crime-deterrent technology like this needs to increase."

"We need to find a further £7.5m in savings and we need all the help we can get."

A pilot scheme in Glasgow showed that the bracelets had a positive impact.

Police tell drinkers to take 'responsibility'

DRINKERS who have to be cared for by the police after over-indulging on a night out have been told to clean up their act as the force puts the spotlight on dealing with drunks and alcohol-related incidents.

Bedfordshire Police are joining forces around the country as part of nationwide scheme 'In Focus: Alcohol Harm'.

Bedfordshire's activity, which will begin at the start of Fresher Fortnight between September 28 and October 12, will see police and partners heading to drinking hotspots. Their aim is to meet and greet young revellers to offer advice about drinking responsibly and to reinforce messages that drunken behaviour will not be tolerated.

Bedfordshire's Deputy Chief Constable John Fletcher (pictured) said: "Police all too often have to care for people who have clearly failed to take care of themselves.

"They need to grow up and take responsibility. Drinking so much that you can't think clearly makes you vulnerable."

PCC should think again on station closures

SIR - I see our PCC continues to overwork himself.

It seems he recently spent a whole afternoon at Biggleswade Police Station working on the front desk.

During his visit he was inundated with three visitors.

If he wanted to see how busy they were I'd have thought that a two minute perusal of the station records would have told him all needed to know.

Apparently this was part of his 'fact-finding' mission to justify closing police stations. He is seeking further justification through the use of a 'survey' in which we are being asked for our preferences on contacting the police.

While I can't argue with the decision - which looks eminently sensible - I cringe at trying to give the appearance of 'public consultation' when I think the decision has been made.

Clearly the old local

CONSULTATION: PCC Olly Martins has asked the public how they use police services cop-shops are well past their sell-by date but I'm not convinced he has been anywhere near imaginative enough in finding alternatives. His two-dimensional thinking has again led him to offer us only two main alternatives: to scrap them altogether or move them into supermarkets or doctors' surgeries. True, that would cut costs, but are those suitable places?

Who's going to want to interrupt their shopping trip to Sainsbury's to chat to the police? And I hadn't noticed that supermarkets were particularly troubled by drug dealers, and ASBO types.

What about a bit of joined-up thinking for a change?

He keeps banging on about building community relations so why not approach other cash-strapped organisations in the town such as the Scouts, and a certain boxing club that the council recently decided to persecute by increasing their rents?

If he rented part of their premises, not only would the cash be useful to these organisations but frequent contact with the bobbies might even help establish a rapport with the youngsters.

Isn't that the sort of thing he wants to have happen?

Another idea that's been kicked around for years is that of mobile cop-shops.

Surely these ought to be at the very top of the list?

They tick all the boxes: low cost, accessible and flexible.

To have a 'cop-shop' parked up for a few hours in known crime hot-spots would be better than the occasional patrol car cruising by.

I can well imagine that once they became established they would, vastly improve the general feel of some of our more worrisome areas.

Ron Turvey,
Stanmore Crescent, Luton

Veil is misunderstood

SIR - The banning of the Muslim face veil has once again surfaced to the political scene.

It seems Jeremy Browne is looking to win some 'Brownie points' by showing his stance against Islam. It may seem a harsh statement but why has this come about?

Why does he feel it necessary to 'free' Muslim women; 'free' them from what exactly?

He feels that Muslim women are being forced to wear the face veil so the only way to stop it being practised is to ban it!

How ludicrous to think that he is giving them freedom of choice! By banning the veil you are restricting their freedom to wear the face veil!!

With around 300,000 attempts to access pornography websites by parliament I don't think MPs are the best people to debate whether women should cover!

If it's such a security issue what are the facts from the security services? If it's an integration issue then ask the Muslims of France why they hate their government for banning the veil!

If it's a communication issue then ban the phone and radio!

Truth is the ONLY reason for the hate is that it is a clear symbol of Islam. Even many SINGLE white converts choose over the demoralising clothes that are being pushed onto girls as young as eight!

People should stop interfering with things they don't understand.

Why doesn't Jeremy ask parents if they feel the problem in school is: lack of discipline, lack of education, intoxicants, sexualisation of children, price of raising children, high levels of illiteracy OR the veil?

All this hate will only lead to the resentment by Muslims and isolating them from mainstream society.

Munir Nafi,
Solway Road, Luton

Tax rules need change

SIR - While watching 'Panorama' on Monday evening, I enthusiastically shared the Chancellor of the Exchequer's righteous indignation when he said we must clamp down on tax evasion and tax avoidance by individuals and companies.

Surely this couldn't be the same millionaire George Osborne who designated his London house as his second home, even though it was his main residence, so that he could claim mortgage interest payments.

He switched his second home allowance to a large farmhouse in his Cheshire constituency. He sold his London home making a £748,000 profit, but did not pay capital gains because he had declared it as his main home since 1998 with the tax authorities - despite the two years it was formally designated as his second home with House of Commons officials.

The capital gains liabilities for those two years would amount to £54,948. One law for the rich, one law for the rest of us.

Nick Murray,
Mullion Close, Stopsley

More could be done

SIR - Yet another young life has gone through abuse from a mother and step father - how many times do we have to hear from a spokesperson: "We will learn from this child's death"?

There is never ever a person or group of people named or shamed over incidents like the one involving Daniel Pelka.

Everybody passes the buck. I had dealings with social services about 15 years ago with my mother.

I had no confidence in the social services at all, and the people responsible for the little boy who died should be brought to task. But no-one ever is.

They just carry on as usual - it is a national disgrace.

Someone must have the balls to sack these incompetent people. If they were then perhaps this might, just might, help the children who at this moment are being abused by a family member. This government, and the past one too, must get their act together and sort this out from the top to the bottom of social services.

AD Curran,
Lime Avenue, Luton

Help the Bag-A-Thon

SIR - I am writing to thank you and your readers for the support you've shown so far for Bedfordshire British Heart Foundation (BHF) shops' Great British Bag-athon.

BHF shops are aiming to raise 1 million bags of unwanted things throughout the month of September so we really need the Bedfordshire community to have a clear out and donate bags of unwanted things to shops.

Taking part is easy, fill up one bag or many with unwanted clothes, shoes, handbags, books, DVDs and homewares and donate to your local BHF shop.

Every bag you fill makes a real difference in the fight for every heartbeat and could be worth £20 to the BHF, helping to fund life-saving research.

There's still time for everyone in Bedfordshire to raise bags for the Great British Bag-athon. Those unwanted heels can help give heart disease the boot. You can even book a free collection from your door by calling 0844 412 5000.

Jacqui Whitehall,
Area Manager for BHF shops

MY life flashed before me. Well, not exactly flashed, more spluttered.

We have been having problems with the downstairs lavatory, or to be more exact, the door to it.

You can close it but sometimes, without any obvious reason, you can't open it again.

A few guests and a plumber have had to be helped out of this predicament. Last Saturday it happened to me.

This time no amount of effort, either from me on the inside, or the present Mrs Lowe on the outside, would release the door.

I was stuck, just like the guy in 127 Hours.

Alright, his arm was stuck between a rock and a hard place, there was no-one within miles and he had only limited water but apart from that the situation was identical.

I began weighing up my options. There is a small window to the outside world but that too was locked. But we have a key!

Mrs Lowe fetched the key and slid it under the door.

The window was far too small for escape, unless I cut an arm off, but would enable food and vital supplies to be passed through. I sat on the lavatory contemplating my next step. I decided, like in the film, that this would be an ideal opportunity to reflect on my past behaviour and misdemeanours.

If my phone was passed through the window I could even record my thoughts to be found and kept for posterity in the unlikely event of me flushing myself down the toilet.

I remembered all the people I had been horrible to.

By and large, I decided, they deserved it.

I thought of the times I had pretended not to be in when my mum called and of the hours of nagging I had missed out on.

I thought of the times when I had gone to the football or pub rather than taking the girlfriend or wife out and realised what a top decision that was.

I didn't have any premonitions about my children during the course of my reflections mainly because the three of them at home were kicking up an unholly racket outside the door arguing about the best way to get me out (or keep me in).

Due to the proximity of the toilet and washbasin death by thirst or the need to drink my own urine were unlikely, unless I chose to do the latter in order to break the monotony but that still didn't stop me thinking about how welcome a cold beer would be.

I could get some sent in.

Just as I was contemplating the feasibility of cutting off a limb with nothing more than a toilet brush, some hand-wash and a copy of War and Peace the door sprung open and I fell into the hallway.

I would like to say the experience left me with a whole new outlook on life but the only thing I found was that the skirting board needed painting.

Derelict centre to make way for new homes

DEMOLITION work on a former recreation centre is due to start in the next few weeks.

Development plans for High Town Recreation Centre in Old Bedford Road, Luton, are still being finalised but it is expected to cater for between 60 and 80 new homes.

The building has stood derelict for a number of years.

Mo Harkin, head of housing at the council, said: "As the building has been rusting away for a number of years I know local people will be pleased to hear that the demolition process has started."

Once the site is clear more details will be announced about the specific plans and how it will help meet Luton's growing housing need.

£699k of bogus benefits busted

BY CARL MUNGIZI

carl.mungizi@lutonsunday.co.uk

MORE than half a million pounds worth of fraudulent benefit claims have been stopped in the past year, it has been revealed.

A report by Luton Council's audit and investigations team said it had saved taxpayers £699,996 in 2012/13 as a result of its operations.

During that period it accepted 765 fraud referrals and delivered 66 sanctions, of which 34 were successful prosecutions. The report also said that the investigation team had lost two members as part of the council's cost-cutting exercise and that the statistics reflected that change.

The news follows guidance issued by Kier Starmer QC, the director of public prosecutions at the CPS, which would see benefit fraudsters face longer jail terms of up to 10 years.

Mr Starmer said it was time for a 'tough stance' on the crime which has an annual cost of around £1.9 billion to the nation.

A spokeswoman for the council said: "We always take action against anyone who is found to be a benefit fraudster - which means they face a potential jail sentence, fine and criminal record."

The secret bakers

KATIE NERTNEY meets the cake makers on a knead-to-know basis to help mark National Cupcake Week...

NOW this was a feature I was especially glad to be handed.

As a keen baker and, let's be truthful, by no means opposed to the odd slice of cake myself, a trip to visit the South Bedfordshire branch of the Clandestine Cake Club was a terribly exciting prospect.

Michelle Titmus and Lindsey Nairn head the group that caters to the cake cookers of Luton, Clophill, Maulden, Shefford and the surrounding area. "The Clandestine Cake Club is an international society, though," Michelle tells me.

"There are branches as far afield as India! But the Club was originally formed by Lynn Hill in Leeds. The concept evolved out of a supper club she was running about two years ago."

What sets the Clandestine Cake Club apart from any other group of flan fans, though, is the secret element. "Michelle and I will organise a venue and set a theme for the upcoming meeting, but won't reveal the details to members until a couple of days before," says Lindsey. Supporters will arrive baring a cake that they have baked in accordance to the theme. "It's surprise cakes next month, which we're very excited about!", reveals Michelle and everyone will enjoy a slice from each of the examples on offer. The meetings provide a fantastic opportunity for a chat, to exchange recipes and tips, and, of course, to sample some delicious cakes. "We're not competitive at all," Lindsay assures me. "We welcome bakers of

Nairn and Michelle

club's new recipe book and their latest

all abilities to come along and have a go."

And, in the spirit of 'having a go', Michelle and Lindsey invite me to bake a classic Victoria Sponge with them (left). Between us, we weigh out blocks of Lurpak and proceed to douse Michelle's kitchen in plume's of icing sugar.

"I would say that The Great British Bake Off has spurred a bit of a revival in the cake baking world," reckons Michelle. "The fact that these expert contestants are seen to make mistakes sometimes too is comforting to the amateur at home."

After the cake tins come out of the oven, Lindsey sandwiches the sponges together with butter cream and strawberry jam.

Michelle wraps up a good slab in silver foil for me to take away, along with some of the raspberry and custard cake she rustled up the night before. Needless to say, I was exceptionally popular on my return to the office...

Help us celebrate National Cupcake Week by emailing your best baking pics to editor@lsnmedia.co.uk or tweet @lutononsunday for a chance to see them in our online gallery.

Student halls bid at town car park

BY CARL MUNGIZI

carl.mungizi@lutononsunday.co.uk

PLANS to build a four to six storey property with 72 rooms for university students are to be discussed by councillors this week.

The application, for the car park in Chapel Street, will be heard during a meeting on Wednesday.

If approved, it will give permission for a halls of residence to be built for University of Bedfordshire students.

The proposals were submitted by a private developer and follows permission granted by the authority last month for the Midland House building in King Street to be converted into halls.

They also come before another application is due to be heard next month for more student accommodation in Park Street. The bid has been submitted by the London Luton Student Halls company.

HALLS OF RESIDENCE: The site has previously been granted planning permission twice for a four-storey building accommodating flats

An agenda for Wednesday's meeting states the university 'has no requirement for additional accommodation at present and has seen a downturn in demand for their existing accommodation stock'.

However, it goes on to say any additional accommodation could be used by second and third year students who would normally move into other houses. The council said this could free up property on the wider market.

Union agrees to fire strike action

BY CARL MUNGIZI
carl.mungazi@lutononsunday.co.uk

FIREFIGHTERS in England and Wales will go on strike over a row about pensions, the Fire Brigades Union (FBU) has said.

Matt Wrack, the FBU's general secretary, said the four-hour strike on Wednesday would be 'a warning shot to government'.

Planned changes by the government will see the retirement age for firefighters raised to 60 but the FBU said the proposals would be dangerous as older men could struggle with the physical demands of the job.

Last week Luton on Sunday reported that the Bedfordshire Fire & Rescue Service said it had plans to deal with any strikes.

What do you think?

Email editor@lsmedia.co.uk

Paul Fuller, chief fire officer, said: "We want to reassure the public that we will still be able to attend emergency 999 calls where a person's life is at risk, using fully trained firefighters and officers."

"These plans would not match the service's normal day-to-day cover, and we would therefore need to prioritise any incidents where lives were threatened."

Mr Wrack said: "This initial strike is a warning shot to government. Firefighters could not be more serious about protecting public safety and ensuring fair pensions."

"Governments in Westminster and Cardiff have simply refused to see sense on these issues. It is ludicrous to expect firefighters to fight fires and rescue families in their late 50s - the lives of the general public and firefighters themselves will be endangered."

RED CARD: Professor John Brewer

Winter World Cup more 'extreme'

HAVING a winter World Cup in Qatar in 2022 could be more 'extreme' for footballers than a summer tournament, a former FA sport scientist has said.

Professor John Brewer, of the University of Bedfordshire, said there was 'no doubt' a switch would help players, but added it could be problematic long term.

Earlier this week UEFA said it would back moving the cup to winter to avoid the Qatari summer.

Prof Brewer said a long break in the winter domestic season would allow for a switch but added it could mean an even longer season for players the following year.

He said: "My concern is that at the end of the 2023 season we will find that we end up having back-to-back seasons."

"The physical challenges of doing that I would argue would be more extreme than having to play in a summer World Cup in Qatar."

Zero hour review agreed by council

BY LAUREN ARCHELL

lauren.archell@lutononsunday.co.uk

AN authority is considering whether to stop using any of its contractors who have employees on zero hour contracts.

The move comes after councillor Tom Shaw asked for the chief executive to review all council departments to establish whether any contractors currently carrying out work for the authority have employees on the controversial contracts, which does not oblige the employer to provide work for the employee.

Having ascertained which, if any, contractors use the zero hour scheme, the authority will then meet to discuss how appropriate it is to continue using those businesses.

Speaking at a meeting on Tuesday, September 10, councillor Tom Shaw said: "The system of zero hour contracts is so stupid."

"These employees are not entitled to holiday pay, sick pay or other benefits yet cannot seek employment elsewhere."

"The people employed on these contracts are clearly people that want to work and we need to give them a fair crack of the whip."

The motion was supported by all parties.

A spokesman from Luton Borough Council said: "The council does not issue zero hours contracts. Following the motion at full council, our officers will be contacting our contractors to identify which ones use zero hours contacts to discuss the appropriateness of the use thereof with those contractors."

OPEN DAY

For YEAR 9 Admissions 2014
Thursday 17th October 2013

At Manshead School we work together with students and the home to be 'in search of personal excellence'. We provide an environment in which students will develop and gain the skills and qualifications they will need to meet the challenges of a quickly changing world.

Our personalised curriculum allows all students to achieve well in their examinations. In 2012 83% of students gained 5 GCSE passes at C or above and our superb A level results make us the top school in the area. Every year our students progress to top universities to continue their studies.

We hope that prospective parents will be able to attend our open evening and open day to see the school in action and the excellent facilities available to students.

Open Evening will be held on Thursday 3rd October from 6.30 - 9pm. This is an opportunity for prospective students and their parents to take a guided tour of the school, meet a range of subject staff and current students, talk to Governors and hear a presentation from the Headteacher and students. Presentations will be held at 6.30, 7.15 and 8pm giving plenty of time to tour the school. There is no need to book for open evening.

Open Day will be held on Thursday 17th October at 9am with tours at 9:10 and 11:30 and is a chance to look around school whilst it is in action. There will be a brief talk before students take small groups of prospective parents and their children around the site. There will be a chance to speak to the Headteacher and other members of the Leadership Team at the end of the tour.

PANTOMIME

SNOW WHITE AND THE SEVEN DWARFS

Milton Keynes Theatre
December 6-January 12

HOLLYWOOD superstar Warwick Davis dropped into Milton Keynes this week to have a chat with JESSICA DUNCAN about his role in this year's pantomime.

Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs marches on to the Milton Keynes Theatre stage from December 6 to January 12, starring some familiar faces including Davis, known to millions from his roles in Star Wars, Harry Potter, Willow, Idiot Abroad and Life's Too Short.

Alongside him is Brookside, Dancing on Ice, Master Chef and West End star Jennifer Ellison.

Warwick will be playing one of the seven dwarfs called Prof, also known as Doc, who likes to think of himself as the leader of the 'Hi-Ho' hard working team.

"Imagine Captain Mannerin in Dad's Army, you know he thinks he is in charge but really he isn't and he is quite pompous, quite jumped up, he has still got the brains but does not know how to apply it," said Warwick.

"There is a little bit of Professor Flitwick (his role in Harry Potter) in him, like the eccentricity you find in the character."

Ellison is playing a baddy for the first time in her career as the Wicked Queen, who tricks Snow White into eating a poisoned red apple.

Jennifer said she was really excited about being a baddy, but is not

She said: "I love how the kids buy into pantomime, it's like no other show and I am looking forward to the kids screaming as I give Snow White the apple."

Back by popular demand to join

Warwick and Jennifer, as the hapless Muddles, is the star of last year's panto Kev Orkian, who returns to make audiences of all ages chuckle following his rave reviews as Buttons in Cinderella.

THE Grove Theatre has announced its new film line-up for the Autumn Film Season and it includes a mix of laugh-out-loud comedy, romance, spine-tingling thrillers and breathtaking drama.

This film season promises to deliver Dunstable and the surrounding areas with some of the finest films.

If you are a fan of Juno and Little Miss Sunshine then you'll love The Way Way Back (12A) which depicts the tale of shy 14-year-old Duncan who goes on a summer vacation with his mother, her boyfriend, and her boyfriend's daughter.

Duncan has a rough time fitting in but then finds an unexpected friend in Owen, the manager of the Water Wizz water park.

During half-term you can take the kids down to Justin and the Knights of Valour (PG). Justin lives in a kingdom where bureaucrats rule and knights have had their power taken away from them.

He harbours ambitions of becoming one of the Knights of Valour but his father wants him to become a lawyer. Will Justin get his way and become a knight?

For the romance lovers comes About Time (12A) from the people behind Love Actually and Notting Hill.

At the age of 21, Tim discovers he can travel in time and change things in his own life. But his decision to make his world a better place by getting a girlfriend turns out not to be as easy as you might think.

If you're in the mood for drama you should come and see Diana (12A), which details the love affair between Princess Diana and heart surgeon, Hasnat Khan.

Thriller fans can watch Runner Runner (15) and Only God Forgives (18) for a tantalising watch.

TREORCHY MALE CHOIR

Grove Theatre, Dunstable
Saturday, 7pm

FOR more than 130 years the Treorchy Male Choir has been recognised as one of the greatest choral ensembles of all time.

Based in the Rhondda Valley, where choirs have existed for more than 150 years, it formed in 1883 and soon developed into a National Eisteddfod winner, culminating in a royal command performance for Queen Victoria at Windsor Castle in 1895.

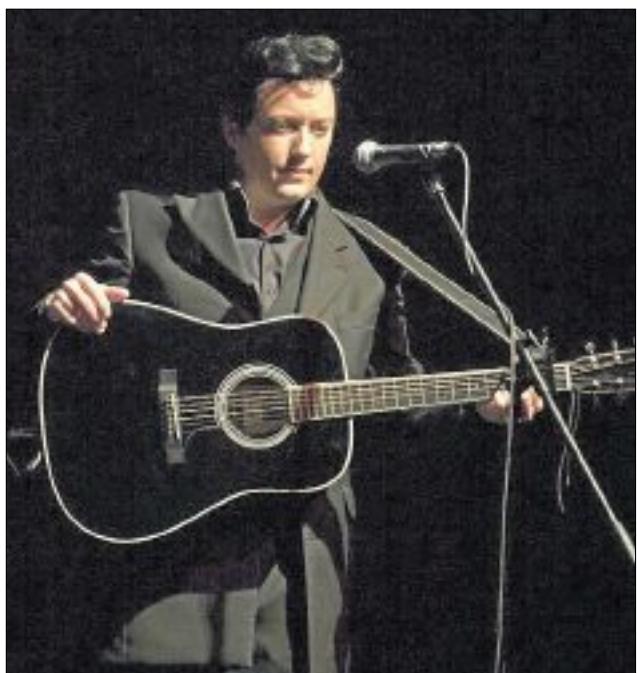

Since then the group has gone from strength to strength, performing in regular radio and television broadcasts, feature films and a large number of commercial recordings.

The choir has also given several Royal Command Performances, appeared alongside many international entertainers and undertaken a number of tours to Canada, USA, New Zealand and Australia.

The present Treorchy Male Choir was reformed in 1946 under the baton of John Haydn Davies and it will be performing on Saturday as part of a fundraising concert organised by the Rotary Club of North Luton.

Charities being supported by the Rotary this year include Noah Enterprises, Keech Hospice Care, and Shelterbox. Tickets cost £20. To book, call 01582 602080.

Friday, 7.30pm

DON'T miss out on the number one tribute to Johnny Cash in The Johnny Cash Roadshow.

Throughout the production the audience is treated to a feast of sound and vision with the band closely replicating the unmistakable sound of Johnny Cash, celebrating the music of one of America's greatest musical performers.

STEEL PAN COURSE

UK Centre for Carnival Arts
From October 1

THE UK Centre for Carnival Arts (UKCCA) launches a six week Steel Pan course for beginners next month.

It's a fun and easy instrument to learn with a beautiful unique sound.

This introductory course led by local Steel Pan expert and Revellers frontman Ian Buckles will aim to give you a solid overview and grounding in the instrument.

The lessons cover a brief history on the steel pan along with simple techniques which will enable you to play a well-known song after the six sessions.

The course is for anyone aged 14 and over who would like to try something new.

Pax Nindi, creative director at the UKCCA, said: "The steel pan drum is an amazing and versatile instrument because it creates a really exotic and beautiful sound that you hear in carnivals all across the world."

It costs £12 for the full course.

To book your place visit www.carnivalarts.org.uk or call on 01582 437100.

FILM REVIEW

RUSH [15]

Directed by Ron Howard

ACCLAIMED director Ron Howard deserves immense credit for crafting one of the best sporting dramas in recent history.

It depicts and somewhat exaggerates the Formula One racing rivalry between British 'playboy' driver James Hunt and disciplined Austrian legend Niki Lauda in the mid-70s, when death was sadly a regular occurrence.

Two stand-out performances from Thor himself Chris Hemsworth as McLaren star Hunt, and particularly – and we're talking a possible Oscar-nomination here – Daniel Bruhl as Ferrari driver Lauda, really makes it an intriguing watch for cinema-goers of all ages.

That coupled with some slick editing (including arguably some of the best sport-based action seen on screen) and perfectly weighted set pieces, turns Rush into one of the best movies of the year from the Oscar-winning director of A Beautiful Mind.

Centred (mainly) around Hunt and Lauda's battle for the title in the 1976 championship, it particularly depicts Lauda's battle back from a life-threatening crash that leaves his face burnt and lungs severely damaged.

The two hours run-time simply doesn't allow enough time to really dissect Hunt's (who died of a heart-attack aged 45) 'non-stop party' life – even though it does touch on his marriage to model Suzy Miller (Olivia Wilde) – but gives enough of a glimpse to help weave an interesting screenplay.

But it's Bruhl's exhilarating performance as Lauda which is the real winner here – he is so good he could actually be THE Niki Lauda – even though his more seriously straight-laced lifestyle is arguably easier to portray than Hemsworth's Hunt role.

Rush slows to intermittently border on the formulaic – which prevents it from ever reaching classic status – but with so much to tell that's an understandable criticism that can generally be overlooked.

Time will tell if this movie will mean more to the British and European audiences than the American market, but this deserves immense recognition – and is undoubtedly one of the movie surprises of the year.

Just like with Hunt's life, Howard lives this movie to the full – and produces one viscerally slick and competently well-oiled machine.

STRETCHING THE POINT

The Fiat 500L MPW might not be the prettiest compact MPV you can buy and the association with the 500 city car might be being stretched to snapping point, but it's one of the cleverest. With a great range of engines, a practical interior and aggressive pricing, it's better than it looks at first. It's well worth persevering with.

The cabin can nominally seat seven, but it's best to think of it as an occasional '5 + 2-seater' MPV. Fiat quotes a luggage volume of 638-litres but that's with the two rear seats folded. Of course, for many buyers that's the form they'll drive the car in most of the time and they can pack a lot of gear in. Yet if you plan to use it to collect a bunch of kids from school, luggage space reduces drastically. There's 560-litres of luggage space when the second row is slid back to its furthest extent and when all seven seats are in place there's a paltry 168-litres of room. Still, that's better than some rivals and not at all bad going for a car that's the same length as a Ford Focus. The seat action is easy to use with one-handed folding and sliding mechanisms. This, then, is a car worth persevering with. It might not initially grab you with its sheer desirability but then most MPV-style vehicles need something other than seductive styling to corner the market. They need to be practical, to do the unglamorous things well. The Fiat 500L MPW demonstrates that although it's built by a company that usually puts a premium on style, it can get down and dirty with family business as well as its key rivals.

Did you know that forests in Europe, which provide wood for making into paper and many other widely used materials, are 30% larger than in 1950? In fact they're increasing by 1.5 million football pitches every year.†

If you love reading your favourite newspaper, isn't it good to know that it's made from natural and renewable wood.

SKRILL PREMIER LUTON TOWN LINCOLN CITY

BY TOM SHARP

sport@lsmmedia.co.uk

IT'S safe to say games at Kenilworth Road have not been the height of entertainment this season but Luton and Lincoln City served up a five-goal classic as the Hatters came from behind to score a valuable win.

With Town staring down the barrel of a third Skrill Premier defeat with 14 minutes to play, a second of the afternoon for Mark Cullen and a tremendous Luke Guttridge rescued Luton.

City's Alan Power and Ben Tomlinson had given the Imps a 2-1 lead with Cullen's opener sandwiched between. However, the arrival of Andre Gray and JJ O'Donnell midway through the second half ignited Town and handed them their fourth win of the season and continued their unbeaten run against City, dating back 14 years.

Hatters Boss John Still had promised to leave his side unchanged after they ended their temporary goal blip in Tuesday's comfortable three goal victory over Dartford but he was forced into one alteration in the lead-up to kick-off.

Paul Benson, who notched his first Town goal in the win, was carrying a knock so Cullen was surprisingly preferred to Andre Gray as the lone figurehead up front with the latter continuing to warm the bench.

Despite a similar fixture schedule to Luton, the Imps have started in more impressive fashion. A 17-point haul from their first nine games has propelled City into the play-off places and in the pre-match sparring, Lincoln midfielder Jake Sheridan believed Town should be very wary of his side's threat.

City were true to his word in the opening stages as well. Top scorer Tomlinson, signed from Alfreton Town in the summer for a four-figure sum, put a glancing header just wide of Mark Tyler's post to home fans' gasps.

Gasps soon turned to groans though as Town fell behind in the 20th minute.

The Hatters failed to clear Tom Miller's long throw and with a short series of pinball ensuing, the ball fell to Imps' captain Power to strike a low shot from 15 yards.

A hint of a deflection but City were not bothered. Another fine result perhaps on the cards for Gary Simpson's men. Power's effort was a brief shot in the arm for Luton as Guttridge's

Five tries as Luton see off North Walsham

LUTON hosted North Walsham at London Road yesterday on an afternoon that started with a minute's applause in memory of coach Bernard Jackson, and finished with a five-try Lutonian haul and a 39-15 win.

"At times we were unbelievable, breath-taking, but if we want to win the league, we've still got some work to do on our game management," said Backs Coach Nick Rhodes. "We're young and exciting, though at times, we need to make better decisions."

A hat-trick of tries from Dave Brennan, which earned him a new pair of boots thanks to a wager with Rhodes, and a brace from debutant-Kiwi Doug Fluker, gave Luton the four-try bonus point in London One North, with four conversions and two penalties added.

DUNSTABLIANS dismantled Leicester Forest at Bedford Road, winning 33-5, making it played two, won two for the Dees this season.

"The forwards played really well, and the backs looked sharp," said Dees scrum half Stuart Hall.

"We moved the ball out wide quickly, we're really pleased." Dees lead 7-0 at the break, and dominated large phases of play, with tries coming from forwards Reece Bowles, Shaun Mangan, Scott Oliver and Sam Coogan as Leicester failed to deal with the Dees pack drive following conversions. Winger Danny Mills added a fifth try in the Midlands 2 East South win.

STOCKWOOD PARK beat Daventry 30-22 on 'Ladies Day' at London Road yesterday, recording their first Midlands 3 East South victory of the new season, although they made hard work of it.

"This was a big win for us," said Number Eight Rob Hartley. "It's a big win in front of a big crowd."

Three first half tries from James Hankey, Jason Carr and Dave Keating, with Carr kicking two conversions, established a 22-7 advantage for Stockwood at the break, and although three tries from the visitors tied the scores 22-22 in the second period, a Hankey penalty and a second Keating try made the game safe.

"We had some pressure to deal with towards the end there," said Carr.

A swift series of corners could have handed City a more assured advantage just after the half-hour mark but Town defended astutely. The hosts were certainly not at the races though. Lincoln's onslaught slightly relented as they looked to protect their one-goal lead and they were almost punished twice in quick succession.

Guttridge curled a 20-yard effort inches wide in the 37th minute while Cullen, still looking to open his Hatters account, similarly to the defeat at Wrexham, had another goal disallowed for offside two minutes before half-time.

The former Hull man pounced on the loose ball after Jim Stevenson's shot had been parried.

Whatever was in the half-time oranges of both sides gave them a boost as the game exploded into life.

Fifty-two seconds after the break, Guttridge's perfectly-weighted cross found the flying head of Cullen who directed the ball past Paul Farman much to his jubilation.

That joy was short-lived though as another long throw from Miller caused havoc in the Hatters' box and Tyler, desperate not to double-lunge, could not stop Tomlinson's 51st-minute header creeping over the line.

Luton were looking punch-drunk as City continued to hammer home their advantage.

Miller crashed a shot past Tyler's far post while Jon Nolan crashed a half-volley agonisingly over the bar.

Town needed to stem the tide so with little more than 25 minutes to go, the introduction of Gray was met with a loud roar. Moments later JJ O'Donnell entered the fray for Scott Griffiths as Luton went all-out attack to salvage the game.

Lincoln's goal was leading a charmed life as hit-men Cullen and Gray both went close but with 14 minutes to go the game turned on its head.

Guttridge smashed a 30-yard free-kick through the fragile Imps' wall and past the helpless Farman to bring parity again and with noise levels rising, Town's persistence brought further dividends three minutes later.

A corner produced a scramble in the box with Cullen the most alert as he spun and fired the ball high into the net. The deflated opposition sunk to their knees as Cullen wheeled away in front of the Kenilworth Road end.

Credit Still's willingness to change it when it was not working and had it not been for Farman it could have got worse for Lincoln as Gray twice could have wrapped up a more superior result.

Nevertheless the home faithful were sent home happy for the second game running as Town bounced back into the top ten.

AFC hammer Biggleswade but Town and Rovers beaten

LOCAL FOOTBALL

BY MATT DESAI

AFC DUNSTABLE kept their promotion push going after hammering Biggleswade United 5-1 on Saturday.

The visitors found themselves a goal down at the break, but had a hat-trick from BJ Christie to thank for an inspired second-half revival.

Biggleswade, who sit in mid-table, took the lead after 16 minutes, when Sam Nair's tricky run set up forward Tre Grant.

However, just three minutes into the second period, the hosts found themselves a man down, as Luke Jones was sent-off for a goal-line handball, with Craig Butler duly converting the resulting penalty.

Christie grabbed his first of the afternoon on the hour mark to give The ODs a deserved lead, before adding another with 15 minutes left in the match.

Dale Turney made it 4-1 to the visitors to secure the victory, leaving just enough time for Christie to notch his third, to complete a terrific hat-trick in the closing minutes.

The win keeps AFC Dunstable in third place in the Spartan Premier, just two points off top spot.

BARTON ROVERS slumped to their first defeat of the season as they were thrashed 4-0 away to Slough Town in the Southern League Central.

Slough made their early pressure count, as midfielder Warren Harris opened the afternoon's scoring after twelve minutes, shooting low and hard after good work from Ed Smith.

Johnnie Dyer doubled the Rebels' advantage mid-way through the first-half, getting on the end of a fine chipped pass to score his first goal for Slough.

The forward had previously gone five games without a goal for his new club, but struck his second of the match on the hour mark when Barton failed to deal with a cross, allowing Dyer the simplest of finishes.

Harris and Dyer then turned providers, combining well on the edge of the box to play in Darren Wheeler for his fourth of the season, to complete the rout on seventy-five minutes.

The result keeps Barton Rovers in second place, but now four points behind Daventry Town at the top.

Elsewhere in the division, DUNSTABLE TOWN were beaten for the first time in nine matches after losing 3-1 to North Greenford United at Berkeley Fields.

Aaron Silcott gave the hosts the lead minutes into the second-half, before a Marc Leach own-goal gave them daylight with twenty-five minutes to play.

Chris Marsh's penalty five minutes later gave The Blues some hope, but Anthony O'Connor sealed the win with ten minutes remaining.

Hatters show some fight and go the full distance

JUBILATION: Mark Cullen celebrates yesterday

FOOTBALL

BY TOM SHARP
sport@lsmmedia.co.uk

LUTON Town manager John Still was left quoting a close friend from the boxing world after his side's fighting second-half comeback against Lincoln City.

The Hatters came from behind twice and with the pressure on the visiting goal mounting, Mark Cullen swept home Luton's third ten minutes from time to secure a fine 3-2 win.

At times the hosts looked powerless to City's onslaught as the in-form away side looked to continue their impressive run of early-season results but Town dug deep to knock out the Imps in the closing stages.

"The attitude of 'the harder you work the luckier you get' was once taught to me by a friend of mine, a boxing trainer who has trained 17 world champions," said Still.

"I am a big believer in that. I do not really believe in luck and if you work hard things fall for you."

"One thing we had today was belief and a 'over my dead body' philosophy and it is the first time I have really seen it."

"I said to the players at half time, one of the things you really have to do is come back from being behind and we did it twice.

"If we are adding that fantastic quality to our game we have got another little step further."

In the absence of loan striker Paul Benson, Cullen was preferred to Andre Gray in attack but the latter's 64th minute entrance along with JJ O'Donnell ultimately did the damage for Town.

However, Still feels his input was only partially the reason they grabbed the points.

"I just felt we needed to go for it in the end because the game was getting away from us and when you have someone like Andre on the bench it is an asset," said Still.

"Lucky for me that him and JJ O'Donnell gave us a prod going forward and we made the most of it."

Following two home wins and six goals after a recent goal drought, Town are now faced with tricky trips to Scott Rendell's temporary employers Woking on Tuesday and then Hereford next weekend.

"They will not be any less tough than the last two we have had," said Town's boss.

"I saw that Dartford beat Kidderminster 3-0 today and we just beat Dartford 3-0 so every game is unpredictable."

"I just hope we can take the positives from this game and score some more points on the road."

A premier service that doesn't cost the earth

Arriva, Centrebus and Grant Palmer will operate services on the Busway, and all will charge the same on their busway services as they do for the equivalent journey using current road routes.

As with usual bus journeys, you can pay the driver when boarding. As well as single and day return trip tickets being available, a range of day and weekly tickets offer even better value for money.

Offering additional convenience, a separate multi-operator ticket known as 'Hip-hop' is also available (see back page).

Operators also offer discounts for students with an NUS card and children with photocards.

Hip-hop tickets - the smart way to get around

The multi-operator Hip-hop ticket allows travel with more than one operator and will allow real flexibility as passengers can just turn up and go when the next bus arrives, whichever operator that may be.

Day and Week Hip-hop tickets were introduced two years ago in response to demand from residents and was initially accepted on all Arriva and Centrebus services across the Luton and Dunstable Zone (Luton, Dunstable and Houghton Regis). This has now been extended on the busway to allow passengers to travel on Grant Palmer service C too. Just jump on the service you need, and either show or buy a Hip-hop ticket from your driver.

Day tickets: £4.60

Weekly tickets: £18.50

For further information go to www.travelluton.co.uk

Easy-to-use bus stops

All bus stops along the guideway and many others across Luton, Dunstable and Houghton Regis have new high-quality, well-lit shelters and level boarding so people can get on and off the bus without needing to step up or down. This will make journeys easier for wheelchair users and people with pushchairs.

To help passengers with disabilities or visual impairment, where space allows there are wide footways around the new bus shelters, and special paving currently used at pedestrian crossings marks the edge of the track at stops on the guideway.

Share the path, share the journey

When the Busway opens, walkers and cyclists can begin sharing a new path built alongside.

Cycling and walking are easy ways to incorporate exercise into your daily routine, saving you money and getting you fit. Regular cycling or walking has been shown to reduce the risk of chronic illnesses, such as heart disease, type 2 diabetes, asthma, stroke and some cancers. Both are good for the environment too!

The entire route has a high-quality surface, with crushed limestone and smooth blacktop sections.

This dedicated route will be the perfect way to link the town centres of Luton, Dunstable and Houghton Regis, and enable walkers and cyclists to enjoy the benefits of a traffic-free journey into work, college or the shops.

The path also provides a direct link to and from National Cycle Network Route 6 with connections to Leagrave and Harpenden. There are great opportunities to get out into the countryside with links to Blows Downs, Warden and Galley Hills and great views of Luton Hoo from the Upper Lea Valley.

Real-time passenger information

Real-time passenger information displays provided at busway stops and elsewhere across the conurbation show when the next buses are due to arrive.

This system uses GPS tracking and can pick up on any congestion or incidents on the roads to provide more accurate predictions of bus arrivals.

It is also 'REACT 3'-enabled so that visually impaired customers can be alerted when they are near a bus stop and can have this information read to them. REACT 3 key fobs are available from both Luton and Central Bedfordshire Councils.

Luton Station Interchange

As part of the busway works a new passenger transport interchange has been built at Luton Station. This includes 13 bus stands with high quality shelters, CCTV, help and information points, real-time passenger information and two large displays showing bus and train departures, weather and information.

Bicycle racks, which are covered, well-lit and monitored by CCTV, can also be found here.
